

Call for Applications for New Board Members NALACS

NALACS, the Netherlands Association for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, is an association for everyone in the Netherlands who is interested in Latin America and the Caribbean. Its mission is to promote insight and debate on issues related to the region in the Netherlands. NALACS is a membership organization and its members include senior researchers, PhD candidates and students, as well as journalists, public officials and NGO staff. NALACS has an important network function, connecting Latin Americanists and Caribbeanists in the Netherlands to each other and to colleagues in surrounding countries. The board meets at least 7 times a year.

NALACS is looking for new enthusiastic board members for the term starting in July 2019. The current NALACS board consists of seven members, each elected for a three-year term, and four of them will step down this summer.

Because of the four positions that will become vacant, we are especially looking for Latin Americanists and Caribbeanists:

- with social media or PR skills and/ or;
- who have professional experience in the Caribbean and/ or;
- who are working for an NGO, a news medium or at the ministry of foreign affairs and/ or;
- who have experience with financial control and budgeting.

If you are interested in joining our team, please send a CV and short letter, in which you briefly motivate your interest and summarize your experience in relation to one or more of the above described profiles. Please send your CV and letter of interest to info@nalacs.nl by March 15th, 2018. If you would like more information, please feel free to write to any one of the board members (see <https://www.nalacs.nl/about/>)
